Levittown Public Schools
Guidance Plan
Grades K-12

It is the mission of the Levittown Public Schools to develop inquiring, knowledgeable and enthusiastic students who value and demonstrate critical thinking and problem solving and meet the District's goal of Success for Every Student. Through collaborations and partnerships,

Levittown Public School graduates will be compassionate, life-long learners capable of achieving their personal goals as self-sufficient, responsible and contributing citizens of a diverse global community.

As per the New York State Commissioner of Education's Regulations relating to School Counseling released in May 2017, the Levittown School District renews its commitment to developing a comprehensive Guidance Plan which addresses the needs of all students in grades Kindergarten through 12th.

Grades K-5

Guidance Plan Program Objectives for Students in Grades K-5

Objective #1: Encourage students in grades K-5 to participate effectively in their current and future educational programs.

Goal: For students to access and engage in all aspects of the education program and make sufficient progress as determined by observations of classroom teachers, grade level standards as outlined on report cards, and standardized assessments (e.g. AimsWeb monitoring).

Assessment: Student progress will be reported throughout the year through report cards in all academic and special areas. Reading and math skills will be assessed multiple times a year in accordance with the district's Response to Intervention \(RtI\) plan. Kindergarten students will be screened in the spring prior to entering school.

Methods/Activities: Students will be exposed to a wide variety of topics related to their academic progress as well as what they can expect in secondary school and beyond. Activities related to this may include:

- Elementary push-in lessons
- Guest speakers introducing students to various careers

Should a student demonstrate difficulty in any area that prevents him or her from accessing the general curriculum or participating in any of his or her educational program the following steps may be implemented:

- 1) Classroom teacher contacts parents/guardians to inform them of the area of difficulty and how it is being addressed in the classroom. The classroom teacher provides guidance as to how to assist the child at home, if appropriate, and apprises the parent of additional steps that might be taken, such as:
 - a. Referring the student to the Instructional Support Team
 - b. Consulting with the school support staff.
- 2) If interventions are recommended, frequent monitoring and communication will be maintained with the team and parents/guardians.

Objective #2: Assist students in K-5 who exhibit a poor attendance record.

New York State Educational Law states that all students must attend school regularly when they are physically and mentally able to do so. The law allows absences for the following legal reasons:

1. Personal illness
2. Death in family
3. Religious observances
4. Required court attendance
5. Official quarantine
6. School approved and supervised trips

Parents must call the school nurse to report their child's absence. Upon returning to school, each student must present a written excuse, signed by a parent or guardian, stating the date, length of time and reason for the absence. Failure to provide such notes in a timely fashion will render the absence illegal.

It is important for students to build positive attendance habits early. Once students begin taking high schools courses, poor attendance may result in delays in graduation. Parents and students should be aware that once in high school, students with greater than 20 absences for a full-year course or 10 absences for a half-year course will not receive credit for that course.

Goal: For students to maintain good attendance, attending class every day.

Annual Assessment: Improved student attendance will be assessed by attendance reports.

Methods/Activities: At the elementary level the following procedures outline how student attendance as well as concerns related to attendance are handled:

- 1) If the parent/guardian has not contacted the school to report an absence, the school Nurse or Attendance Secretary will contact the parent; if contact is unable to be made or unexcused absences begin to accumulate....
- 2) School Counselor or School Social Worker will attempt to contact parent; if contact is not able to be made or if excessive absences, tardiness or early release events continue to occur....
- 3) Building administrator will be alerted and a home visit may be initiated by School Counselor, School Social Worker, School Psychologist and/or Principal.
- 4) If absences exceed 10 days or if there is a concern regarding excessive absences, tardiness or early release events, a letter will be sent home alerting parents to the excessive absences.
- 5) If absences have totaled 20 or more a mandatory meeting with building administration, relevant staff members and parents will occur.
- 6) If excessive absences continue to accumulate, Child Protective Services (CPS) may be contacted by staff. Excessive absences may lead to retention.

Objective #3: Assist students in K-5 who exhibit (a) academic, (b) behavioral and/or (c) adjustment problems.

Goal: Students with academic, behavioral and/or adjustment problems which impact their ability to access the curriculum will demonstrate improvement in class participation, classwork production, and/or homework completion. Specific areas of need will be targeted for intervention and students will demonstrate improvement in the targeted area(s).

Annual Assessment: Students will be assessed by the classroom teacher on the quantity and quality of their work and school assessments. Report cards will be used as measures of progress. Behavioral and adjustment issues will be progress monitored. Improvement will be compared to the baseline measure of presenting problem(s).

Methods/Activities: Classroom teacher will collaborate with parents and support staff to develop a plan targeting specific areas of concern. Instructional support team, research based Response to Intervention strategies, and progress monitoring will be used to assess success of interventions. Individual and/or group counseling with the school counselor, social worker, and/or psychologist may be implemented. Collaboration with outside agencies may occur as appropriate. Team meetings with parents and relevant staff members will be held regularly and communication will occur often between staff and parents.

Objective #4: Provide education to students in grades K-5 concerning personal safety, including but not limited to the avoidance of child sexual abuse, physical abuse, online exploitation, drug and alcohol abuse.

Goal: To teach students to identify situations which make them comfortable and uncomfortable, as well as which situations could be potentially dangerous. Students will identify the individuals in their support system they can trust with information regarding threats to their own safety or the safety of others.

Assessment: Students will be assessed through dialogue within the classroom, observations by teachers and support staff, parental feedback and district surveys.

Methods/Activities: Support staff and teachers will teach lessons about health and risks to student safety at developmentally appropriate levels.

Objective #5: Encourage parental involvement.

Goal: To provide opportunities for parents to become more involved in school activities focused on academic, behavioral, cognitive and social/emotional development through team meetings with staff, workshops, back to school nights and other school activities.

Assessment: Attendance at team meetings and workshops as well as other school events will be monitored. Surveys will be utilized to collect parent feedback.

Methods/Activities: A variety of tools will be used to increase parent involvement including Back to School Night, Parent University, parent involvement on district committees, as well as parent surveys.

College/Career Planning

The 6-12 counseling program has as part of its charge the goal of preparing our students for successful lives after graduating from the Levittown School District. This process involves making students and parents/guardians aware of academic requirements as well as providing appropriate and rewarding school-to-work experiences. The middle school and high school counselors provide transitional programming at every stage, with the ultimate goal being students' successful adjustment from high school to college, military or post-secondary employment.

Counselors develop appropriate schedules for students in accordance with state and local learning standards as implemented by the New York State Department of Education. Developing career awareness utilizing specialized software (Naviance) and other electronic and tangible means begins at the middle school level. College fairs, the processing of college applications and other post-high school educational programs, as well as providing students access to representatives from such institutions and programs contribute to a comprehensive school-to-career program.

Student Intervention

Optimally, students would always come to school ready to learn. However, there are several reasons that this may not be the case. Examples are problems at home, conflicts with peers or teachers and learning disabilities. When these issues arise, the counseling staff has a variety of ways to deal with them. These can include interventions within the school or referral to outside agencies. Interventions are made when students have attendance, behavioral, home or academic problems.

In-school interventions may consist of crisis counseling, individual counseling, and referral to the Student Support Team (SST) or referral to the Committee on Special Education.

Often issues that students and families deal with are beyond the realm of what the school is able to offer. When this arises, referrals are made to community agencies. This could involve outside counseling or intervention services, such as a PINS petition. These interventions are all focused on putting the student and/or the family in a better position to be successful.
