This is a fantastic opportunity for students to explore two distinct types of campuses. NYIT is a private research university with approximately 3,000 students. NYIT is focused on providing career-oriented professional education with a strong emphasis on hands-on learning across fields like engineering, computer science, architecture, business, and healthcare. SUNY Old Westbury is a public liberal arts university (part of the SUNY system) with approximately 6,000 students. Even if these specific colleges aren't on your radar, this visit will help you clarify what type of college environment you prefer. For those considering these schools, attending will enhance your application, as colleges appreciate when students demonstrate genuine interest. Visiting is the most effective way to show that enthusiasm!
