ADVANCED PLACEMENT & DUAL ENROLLMENT

- Advanced Placement courses are the most rigorous classes offered at the high school level
- They are designed for students who wish to be challenged at the highest level.
- Students may earn college credit based on the policy of the specific college.

Dual Enrollment courses are college level classes taught in high school. Students have the option of purchasing college credit.

Dual Enrollment Colleges and Universities

- Molloy University
- Farmingdale State University
- Syracuse University
- Long Island University
- Suffolk Community College

SENIOR YEAR DOES COUNT!

Senior year is not a chance to take it easy.
It's a chance to keep running over the finish line!

- Minimum College Requirements: Check your college websites to make sure that you are meeting the minimum academic course requirements. When you see that a school requires 3 years of something you often want to go above and beyond and take 4 years to stay competitive with other applicants!
- College Competitiveness: What type of colleges are you applying too? If you are looking at top tier schools you want to take the most rigorous courses that you can.

To succeed at NYU, what should I have taken in high school?

We find students are best prepared for NYU if they've studied the following subjects:

- English/Writing - 4 years
- History/Social Studies - 3 to 4 years
- Mathematics - 3 to 4 years
- Laboratory Sciences - 3 to 4 years
- Foreign Language - 3 to 4 years
